

LIMEYARD, Vienna Stock Exchange, and Banca Finnat S.p.A. to launch a new index dedicated to the AIM Italy equity market:

- (1) The LIMEYARD Finnat AIM Italia 100 ex SPAC consists of the 100 largest shares (by free-float market capitalization) admitted to the AIM Italia, excluding special-purpose acquisition companies (SPACs).
- (2) Banca Finnat, which promoted the creation of the index, has started the process for its adoption as the benchmark for its Luxembourg "New Millennium AIM Sistema Italia" subfund (SICAV-SIF).

September 12, 2018, Zurich—LIMEYARD and Vienna Stock Exchange are excited to announce the launch of the LIMEYARD Finnat AIM Italia 100 ex SPAC Index, together with Banca Finnat, an Italian financial intermediary focused on the AIM Italy market and on listed and close-to-listed SMEs.

The new Index (Bloomberg Ticker LYAIM1EN) represents the performance of the SMEs active on the Italian AIM market ex SPACs (which now represent about 28% of total market capitalization and 55% of total free float).

Following are the main parameters of the LIMEYARD Finnat AIM Italia 100 ex SPAC Index:

- The universe consists of all the companies listed on the AIM Italy market, excluding SPACs and other investment vehicles. The index will be composed of the top-100 shares with a cap at 10%.
- The companies are weighted on the basis of the capitalization of their free–float market capitalization.
- The index is calculated and released on a daily basis.
- Recapping takes place after every share addition/deletion or at least on a quarterly basis.

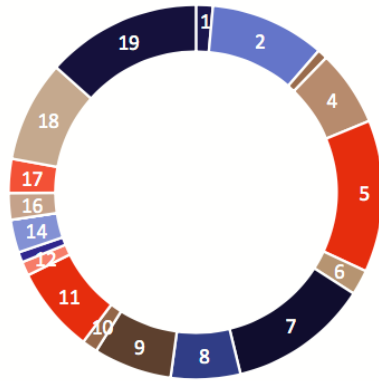

The index is calculated and disseminated by Vienna Stock Exchange, which also acts as the benchmark administrator, ensuring compliance with the EU Benchmark Regulation. Hence, it is possible to use the index as a benchmark and as underlying entity for funds and financial products. The Index will be published by the main gateway providers.

Banca Finnat, which is also the manager of the Luxembourg "New Millennium AIM Sistema Italia" fund—born nearly a year ago and dedicated to the AIM Italy market—announced that its Luxembourg "NATAM S.A." management company, has already begun—with the competent supervisory authority—the process to adopt the new index as a benchmark.

Alberto Alfiero, Deputy General Manager of Banca Finnat and NATAM SA Chairman, explained: “Banca Finnat is one of the top players in the AIM Italy market, in which it has played and continues to play multiple roles: specialist, nomad, global coordinator, asset manager, and research provider. We are particularly proud to have promoted the creation of a new index dedicated to the AIM Italy market, sharing our expertise with LIMEYARD and Vienna Stock Exchange. We thought about an index ‘ex-SPAC’ because we believe it would enable better comprehension of the performance of ‘real’ SMEs. We are going to use it as a benchmark in our AIM fund.”

Patrick Valovic, CEO of LIMEYARD, added: “We believe SPACs are a very interesting financial instrument, but we are also convinced they represent a very different case from other operative companies. In some market phases the coexistence in the same index of two so-different realities has produced a slightly misleading perception of the market trend. In our opinion, an index dedicated to the AIM Italy that excludes SPACs enriches the possibilities for analysis and evaluation. Being dedicated to providing the market with investable innovative index solutions, LIMEYARD is excited to have found such a valuable partner in Banca Finnat for this extraordinary offering.”
